Organizational Development Volunteer. He and his wife Kate served together in Plovdiv, the second largest city in Bulgaria. There, he worked with Land Source of Income Foundation, an NGO that provides microcredit loans to Roma (Gypsy) farmers, as well as teaching English. Brian's favorite English word he learned in Bulgaria is "draggie." Brian and Kate finished their service as Technical Trainers for the B-20 Volunteers. Back in the U.S., Brian spent three years in microfinance in Portland, Oregon, before becoming a staff development specialist at a local credit union.
